RICKY LAUGHED AT, BUT GAINER AND TOPORCHER HELP HIM WIN

New Orleans Youth Shows Brooklyn Fans Catching They Have Dreamed of; Yankees Not Busted, They Assert, as They Keep in Midst of Pudding

BY GEORGE CHADWICK
Special Correspondent of The Standard-Examiner.

NEW YORK, April 22.—An interesting 10 days has been passed in the big leagues. Not the fortune that played its pranks. Branch Rickey was laughed at when he took Del Gainer out of the minors and brought him back to St. Louis. Yet when the Cardinals have been in the lead for the past week, Rickey has displayed. And what would Rickey have done had he not called Toporcher and his speck back from Syracuse? The kid has been playing live-saving tag at short center field.

De Barry has slipped a new quality of catching into the city that slides into Coney Island. The New Orleans youngster has come up from the bayou and shown Brooklyn fans catching of the sort fans have been dreaming about.

POLISH UP PITCHERS.
True the Brooklyn haven't been winning very often but that is because the best pitching staff in the National League hung out overnight and got rusty in the ocean mists. When the pitchers are emery-papered and polished up, Brooklyn should do better. Shinners, of course, is not a burner but he is helping to keep the Giants in the fight.

"Busted," said the World of the Yanks, when the high commissioner put Ruth in the detention pen. "Gutted nothing," retorted the veracious colonels and they went forth and foraged in Boston and took away two pitchers and a shortstop. Never mind the pitchers but behold the shortstop. Scott's speed is not a burn but has been keeping the Yanks in the thick of the pudding.

ANENT THE PHILS.

"Don't say that one can't do a heap for a team. No one knows what the Phils might have done if Fletcher had not come back. Out in Cleveland there is McInnis. Speaker lured him from Boston where the luring is good. Some folks said the Clevelanders were stale and never were going to be in the fight this year. One player enters and the plot changes.

The St. Louis Browns gave up a regiment of ball players to get Danforth. Danforth immediately holds up to his reputation by winning. For the moment the Browns seem to have got what they wanted. The players think it has been found. That's half the argument.

Two teams took their players on in an adult dose. These were Chicago and Cincinnati and only the teams assimilate what they've got, it won't be possible to get much of a line on them.

NEED THIRD BASEMAN.
If the Pirates could pick up a third baseman who is the equivalent of Groh, Pittsburgh would be beating the other clubs more often. A third baseman, tip-topper class, is needed above everything.

Then there's the Boston Americans, another team like Cincinnati and Chicago, plugging along trying to establish itself.

The Boston Nationals haven't aroused. They're not winning as it will, still moving sedately. It was the new waiver rule that gave Johnson and Young to the Athletics. The new waiver rule says that the lower teams shall have first choice when waivers are asked. No funny it that rule should help the Athletics to beat out the other clubs.

And last down the alphabet, Washington. Not winning quite as Griffith wishes and he is not winning, but certainly showing that it is another Washington team, even in the moment of vexation when things do not go right. Peck and Harris will be working together one of these days. Then look out.

HOPES TO EQUAL GRIDIRON FEATS ON TRACK

By NEA Service

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 22.—Fiske Brown, All-American guard and captain of the Harvard track team, aims to establish his name as prominently in the track world this spring as it is in the annals of college football.

Brown was good enough to trail along in the weight events during his prep school days at Andover and as a member of the freshman track team. But the young giant never took the weight-throwing game seriously enough until Bill Bingham and Jim Tolbert took him in hand.

Bingham, Harvard's track coach, provided the enthusiasm; Tolbert, Crimmon's weight-thrower, on the eve of graduation, which would leave his college without a man in these events, supplied the technical knowledge.

No one took Brown as a serious factor in Harvard's track and field athletics until the Harvard-Yale athletes met those of Oxford and Cambridge last summer. Then he stepped into the ring, gazed upon the marks set by his competitors and lazily heaved the 16-pound hammer 168 feet.

The Harvard tracksters selected Brown to lead them after his performance in the international college meet. He was already captain of the wrestling team, but resigned from that job to take charge of the major sport.

Brown's ambitions in football have realized when Walter Camp named him the best guard in the east. He is planning now to have the same fame at the close of the track season.

HARRY WILLS IS ONE BIG CANDIDATE FOR MILL WITH PRESENT BOXING CHAMPION

Colored Fighter Only Rival for Jack Dempsey's Crown Who Appears to Have at Least a Chance With Utah Battler

By BOB DORMAN

NEW YORK, April 22.—Jack Dempsey's European trip promises to be little more than the usual tourist sight-seeing trip. When it is considered that this country has been unable to produce a heavyweight contender a chance of giving the hard-hitting champion any sort of a battle, it is hardly likely that Europe can do so.

England has Joe Beckett, Tom Cowler, Bombardier Wells, Albert Lloyd, Frank Goddard and George Cook, all veterans who have seen their best days with the exception of Cook, who does not rank very high, as the fast shipping Beckett stopped him the other night.

France has Carpentier, already defeated by Dempsey, Journee and Neilles. The last two are jokes.

In America, among the white heavies, there is an equal dearth of material.

Most of the well-known men of recent history have dropped out of sight, or, if they are heard of, it is merely a line or two that they have kissed the canvas once more.

Fred Fulton, once a promising white hope, whose speed and size kept many others out of the same ring, is anybody's meat since Bartley Madden demonstrated that the ponderous plasterer had nothing anyone need be afraid of.

Bill Brennan and Billy Miske are still showing something of their old-time form, but as Dempsey has taken both of them it can hardly be said that either is entitled to consideration for a match with the champion.

Outside of Harry Wills, the negro heavyweight, there is not much of promise in the heavyweight division.

BREAKING state interscholastic track and field records a few years ago was a common occurrence but during the past few years it has taken on a "super-athlete" to turn in a new mark. The Ogden high school has uncovered just such a star in Bill Cox, the tow-headed athlete of the Junior class.

Cox heaved the shot out of the lot, sportingly speaking in the Tiger interscholastic meet last week, shattering a mark that has stood the test for 15 years. He heaved the mark of 43 feet 7-1/2 inches, made in May, 1907 by Henry Richardson of the Salt Lake high school, by putting the shot at 42 feet 8-1/2 inches.

Richardson's mark stood the test of such noted high school athletes as Alma Richards, Snow Jensen, Smith, Johnson, Hansen and numerous others. Some of these men came near to upsetting the Richardson mark, but lacked the necessary punch to put it over.

DISPLAYS CLASS
In busting this mark Cox not only displays his ability as a shot putter, but he also enters the hall of fame with the greatest field event men ever developed in the state. Although his mark does not stand as a state record, due to the fact that it was made in a state meet, it is expected that he will pass the present record when the schools take the field in the finals May 12.

The Ogden high wonder "athlete" shattered the state discus mark of 114 feet in the class meet by turning in a mark of 112 feet 6 inches. The record for this event established in 1921 was made by Nation of the East high school.

In this performer Coach Carl Petersen, an athlete of the first order, and one who should keep the Tigers in the running in the state meet.

STATE COLLEGE MEET
Tracksters of the colleges of the state will take the field in their annual interscholastic meet at Provo, May 13. The competition will in probability be between the Utah and Aggie teams with the Crimson favorites to win.

Charles Paddock, star of the cinder path, has returned to Los Angeles from Honolulu. Paddock explained his methods of putting his "dogs" in high wind in the islands. He is said to be running better than ever.

Some gent writes in and wants to know if Judge Landis is also the state meet. Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea.

Bobby Jones, former star third baseman for the Ogden club of the Union League, later with the San Francisco club of the Pacific coast league, is out of the game in the American league for a few days with an injured ankle. He is with the Detroit Tigers.

Jack Dempsey is being showered with letters from prominent women of England, according to press dispatches. Jack says his manager Jack Kearns, knows the well known song, "They Go Wild, Simply Wild Over Me," and its full meaning.

The Denver club of the Western league, the infant of the West, got away to a poor start in the flag chase. They occupy the cellar position—a place popular in society circles nowadays.

PLAYERS OUT
Baseballers of the Northern Utah league are taking advantage of the warm weather, and many indications, every player in the loop will be in perfect condition when the ball sounds May 17.

After spending the winter at Honolulu and other cities in the Pacific Islands, Sam Clapham, English heavyweight mat champion has sailed for San Francisco. Sam is well known in Ogden, and is due to arrive here during the next few weeks.

Sprinters in the state interscholastic are going to have tough sledding in the state meet this spring. All of the schools have an abundance of men in these events which should make the competition all the stronger.

Where to Make Alterations In Mode of Living Discussed

BY WALTER CAMP
Special Correspondent of The Standard-Examiner.

(Copyright, 1922, by The Standard-Examiner.)
NEW YORK, April 22.—A short time ago when the announcement of Knox Taylor's death came, all friends were shocked and grieved. For there had been no alumnus upon whose sound judgment they had relied more implicitly. And Taylor was in the very prime of life. No one reads but the death of a man under thirty with feeling that there is a tremendous toll which nature is taking from us through overwork and the extraordinary pace at which we are living.

Some one once made a very interesting compilation of how the average man spends the time of his life. When his books are balanced at the end of his lifetime, the average man of 50 has spent 22 years in sleep, 19 years in work, 11 in amusement, 10 in eating, 12 in traveling, 10 in illness, 2 in dressing and one year in religious work.

WHERE TO BEGIN.
Now, in checking over these, the first thing that occurs to the man who would make alterations is where to begin. First there is the tendency to add to the amusement period and take it out of some other place.

Naturally the item that a man is quite ready to dispense with is the illness of four years. In an average probability he could take out four years of illness by adding one year to amusement. One of the most important factors is not to deprive the sleep item, and the amusement item grows in value according to the nine years are spent indoors or outdoors.

EATING LESS
If every reader will check up his stomach along these lines he will be really convinced that the possibility of the amusement item is well within his bounds of probability.

There is no use trying to curtail the eating item if it means eating easier. But if one is eating less, probably there would be a gain there. Under the dressing item, it included the bath and a short period of stretching exercises. This certainly should not be neglected. The amusement item grows in value according to the nine years are spent indoors or outdoors.

DON'T THINK VERY MUCH OF LUNNON

British Confident That Lewis Will Star in Carp Off

By SPARROW MORGAN
Special Correspondent of The Standard-Examiner.

(Copyright, 1922, by The Standard-Examiner.)
NEW YORK, April 22.—The fight between Georges Carpentier and Ted (Kid) Lewis in London May 11, is reflected by the betting on the other side of the Atlantic. The amount of confidence in Lewis to stand Carp off, is a surprising amount of confidence. The English public, in good condition and his fine physique, has stories that the Frenchman is in good condition, have bet to back the odds down to one and a half to one.

DIFFERENCE IN RECORD.
One important fact that is reflected about the two men, Carpentier's style and the sort that Lewis has not experienced. Lewis has not experienced the two men, Carpentier's style and the sort that Lewis has not experienced. Lewis has not experienced the two men, Carpentier's style and the sort that Lewis has not experienced.

Another interesting point is that Carpentier is a much heavier man, higher weight, but not as much weight or under. Lewis has a good example of the same. Carpentier is a much heavier man, higher weight, but not as much weight or under. Lewis has a good example of the same.

BRITISH OPTIMISM.
Well, anyway British optimism is increasing day by day and now that the English take the ring on the 11th of May, a lot of Americans are not so sure of the Carpentier at these odds. In fact, one expert does not see where the middleweight has a chance.

About the time Carpentier is meeting it looks as though he can most impressively be seen over a "Gibson-Grey" fight.

He can hit and is within chances to win a pinch. It is where he would be likely to better against Greb than Greb showed himself far from a trade wallop.
